New Water, Sewer Lines Approved by Township

Extensions Slated For 18 Locations

Board Authorized Taking Of Bids for Construction

By HENRY CANTIN
ANP Staff Writer

ROMULUS—The Construction of new water and sewer line extensions to cost in excess of a half a million dollars has been authorized by the Romulus Township Board of Trustees, Roderick E. Smith, township supervisor, announced this week.

The new water and sewer extensions, part of 1969 Romulus Township Sanitary Sewer and Water Extension Program, will be constructed in 18 top priority locations covering business, residential and commercial areas.

In these areas of the Township is presently without water and sewer line extensions.

THE TOWNSHIP BOARD in its Oct. 21 meeting instructed Township Engineers, Wade & Trim to advertise for sealed construction contract bids immediately.

Such bids are to be ready for opening on the very morning of Oct. 21, 1969.

General plans of the new and large water and sewer program have already been approved by the Township Board.

"THIS IS part of the water and sewer program promised our people when we asked them to vote millage for water in 1958 and for sewers in 1961," Smith said.

"As time goes on we will include other areas of the Township that do not now have such facilities," he added.

Some of the new programs will be constructed by Water Department of Romulus Township, Smith stated.

Locations in the new water supply system and sanitary sewer system are as follows:
WATER SUPPLY SYSTEM
Elmview from Ozga to Merideth.
Wahrman from Grant to Rosewood.
Elward west of Inkster.

SANITARY SEWER SYSTEM:
Alley north of Ecorse from Harriet west.

After 11,000 Cases

Court Conducts First Jury Trial

ROMULUS—After almost eleven months of operation, the 34th District Court held its first jury trial on Wednesday, Oct. 22.

The fact that a jury trial was conducted in the Court is not very newsworthy. The fact that the District Court, under the able direction of District Judge James B. Stone, has heard more than 11,000 cases without going before a jury is amazing!

What this means to our community is that our District Judge has been able to make decisions in such a manner that the expense of jury trials has been unnecessary.

THERE HAVE been many requests for trial by jury placed with our Court. However, Judge Stone has established a practice of holding pre-trial hearings on these cases.

At the pre-trial, the defendant, his attorney, and the arresting officer meet to discuss the merits of the case. In almost every instance, they have been able to reach an agreement whereby trial by jury was not necessary.

The result of this additional time and effort spent by our Judge has been a savings of several hundred dollars in jury fees for the taxpayers in the 34th Judicial District.

The first jury trial involved drunk driving case that ended in conviction for the motorist.

Elementary Art Teacher Plans District-wide Show

ROMULUS—Mrs. Cheryl Huff, elementary art teacher for Cory and Beverly Elementary Schools, was one of the people most interested and pleased by the record PTA turnout Cory experienced earlier this month.

Because of a class on the night of the PTA meeting, Mrs. Huff was unable to attend, but she was there in spirit, for it was she who was responsible for all those pictures of Cory fathers.

She had carried through on an idea proposed by the program chairman, Gary Moore, and it was one of the more successful PTA ventures.

MRS. HUFF has lots of ideas of her own concerning art projects she would like to initiate for the children of Romulus. She would like to form an Art Club for interested fifth and sixth graders so that they would have the chance to work in and with media not applicable to regular classroom work.

She envisions a boutique where children could display and sell their creations, thus earning enough to buy supplies and even finance a trip to a showing or gallery.

The art Department is planning a District Wide Art Show to be held in the spring, Mrs. Huff reported. In addition to her talents in the Graphic arts, Mrs. Huff is an accomplished musician. She graduated from Western Michigan University and taught previously in the Dearborn 8 school district.

THE CROWNING—Last year's Homecoming Queen, Miss Sandy Peters, places the Royal Crown on the head of Miss Anna Toth, 17, immediately after her selection as this year's Homecoming Queen at Romulus Senior High School's Homecoming Day festivities last Friday afternoon.

SANTA VISITS ROTARY--Belleville Rotarians received a personal visit from Santa Claus at the Oct. 21 meeting. Eugene Gribble, Santa of the Romulus and Belleville Area (second from left) He related experiences of being Santa every Christmas. Last year he saw and interviewed 10,000 in a three-week period. Looking over Santa's scrap books are left to right: Thomas G. Hamlin, city councilman; Rotarians John Dudick and Richard Hamilton.

The awards are to be presented this afternoon at a dinner of WRC's session to be held at Masonic Temple, located at 515 Main Street.

Gail Holcomb, tenth grader, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Holcomb of 2032 Moeler, Ypsilanti received an "outstanding Citation for Citizenship Award" for her participation in the contest. Judges were Mrs. Dorothy Anderson, Herbert Sawyer and Teacher Mrs. Eloise Condon.

My husband and his lead man are listed as missing in action. It is two years now and I have received no word on him. I do not know if he is dead or alive. I have sent telegrams, letters and night letters to minister Xuam Thuy begging him for information but they have never answered me.

I have four children, Carol 10, Barbara 8, Paul 5 and David 2 1/2. My children often ask me "Is daddy ever coming home?" and I can't give them answers.

My youngest child, David doesn't even know his father. He was six months old when Don left for Vietnam. I had planned on going to the Paris Peace talks in November but Witches on broomsticks fly through the sky. Ghosts and goblins slip through the streets. Grinning jack o'lanterns light the way. It's Halloween and there is magic in the air.

Halloween Magic

Small magicians like Chris Cochran from Illinois have their special chemistry for this night. The elements they use are the pennies, nickels, dimes and quarters inserted by generous adults into the familiar orange and black cartons as the costumed small fry "Trick or Treat for UNICEF."

Where does the magic happen? The first transformation takes place within the hearts of these American children. Instead of a night of mischief and destruction, the children have a worthwhile purpose on Halloween.

THEIR AIM is no longer how many ash cans can be overturned; not how many windows can be soaped or broken; not how many goodies they can collect for themselves; instead, their aim is how many coins they can gather to help less fortunate children around the world.

The most incredible transformation takes place at the United Nations Children's Fund where the coins are turned into real tools to help the millions of needy children in the developing countries.

On October 31, proclaimed National UNICEF Day by the President of the United States in 1967, Americans across the country have the opportunity to set this magic into action.

THESE GHOSTS and goblins can become the magicians bringing health and hope to the sick and needy children around the world through UNICEF. Won't you help when your local Trick or Treaters come to your door? Every coin you can spare will make Halloween a magic time for children everywhere.

Students Receive Field Trips

ROMULUS--The Mt. Pleasant Elementary School's first grade class went to the Wonder Bread factory in Detroit on Oct. 15.

They saw how bread and buns were prepared and baked. On completion of this trip they had lunch.

Two days later the same class went to the South Huron Orchard's Cider Mill. The children were allowed to pick apples. They watched the apples processed into cider. Upon conclusion of their trip they each enjoyed a glass of cider and a donut.

Mrs. Hanlon class teacher would like to thank the mothers who helped on these trips.

A reminder was issued to everyone that the school is sponsoring a Spaghetti Dinner on Nov. 7.

The Public Letter Box

(Editor's Note: In the following letter the wife of fighter pilot shot down over North Vietnam, two years ago and a Romulus township nephew, make a plea for support in their pleas for some word from the North Vietnamese government about the pilot. We published it here)

TO THE EDITOR:

My husband Major Donald Odell was shot down over North Vietnam on Oct. 17, 1967 flying his F-105. He and two others were hit while on a combat mission and one man is known captured by his wife received one letter.

I am now distributing petitions and they are not a war protest but a humanitarian gesture and we hope to send the petitions to leaders of other countries to ask them to speak out for our forgotten men. We are asking for a list of names of prisoners and we want Hanoi to honor the Geneva Convention.

The N. Vietnamese delegation announced that letters and pictures with information about our loved ones would be taken to Hanoi and we would receive information on our men by mail so I have cancelled my trip for now.

Believe it or not, the posters would be a great Christmas present in my heart. I know I would be doing my part for my husband and 1300 other men listed as missing or captured. My husband cannot speak for himself so I feel I must do all I can for him. And I will.

Thank you

nothing like being in an empty church and feeling the presence of God all around you. You feel so completely at peace with yourself and the world. Besides needing to find an open church, we needed, desperately, someone to talk to. We have a large problem and we need help.

What better place to find help and someone to talk to than a House of God and a minister? We even went to two (2) hospitals hoping they would let us use their chapel. They refused.

A church is supposed to be there to serve the people. Anyway, this is what I was brought up to believe. But it seems that has been reversed. The people are there to serve the church. If someone has a problem they have to wait until Sunday to take it to church.

THIS IS what churches are saying, "If you need help, you'll have to wait until Sunday. I'm not open any other time and I won't help you any other time."

Why does it have to be this way? Do people think you're going to have a party if you go to a church at night? Are they afraid you'll steal something? Or, perhaps, burn the church down? If one wanted to steal from a church they would break into it. If they wanted to burn it down, they could do it just as easily from the outside.

We called the Suicide Prevention Center to ask if they knew of an open church. Needless to say, they thought we were going to destroy ourselves. We finally made them realize all we wanted was an open church.

I fully intend to send a copy of this letter to the Council of Churches. Maybe, just maybe, they'll take the problem into consideration.

The whole thing boils down to this: God didn't intend to have the doors of His House closed six (6) days a week and open one (1).

Romulus School Board OK's Pact With Local 64

ROMULUS—An agreement on a new contract between Romulus Community Schools' Board of Education and Local 64 of the Metropolitan Council No. 23 of American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees was announced this week by Robert L. McConeghy, school superintendent.

The contract is one for three years covering 100 non-teaching employees. It embraces hourly wage increases and improvements in excess of $65,000.

The new contract, which replaces a previous two-year employment agreement, was ratified by union members on Oct. 11, and by the Board of Education on Oct. 13, McConeghy reported.

NEGOTIATIONS THAT led to the successful agreement began in the spring of this year.

Hourly wage boosts varied from 23 cents an hour to an average of 45 cents an hour depending on classifications.

McConeghy stated that the new agreement wage scales are in line with the wage scales in comparable school districts in the same varied classifications embraced in the new pact.

Covered in the new contract are maintenance and operation employees, cafeteria personnel, bus drivers, garage mechanics, and secretaries.

THE APPROVED pact contains full hospitalization coverage and improvements in fringe agrees.

The negotiated settlement is an "honest attempt" by both parties to give "dollar wise" the best contract and one comparable to adjacent school districts to these school employees, it was stated.

Majority of union members of Romulus Township residents and taxpayers, McConeghy reported. ***

THE SCHOOL BOARD will now consider adjustments in administration and supervisory employees not teachers or members of Local 64.

Congressman Ford said: "It is nice to know such a true-blue, dyed-in-the-wool Democrat has been elected President of the Romulus Democratic Club. I know that under your leadership the Romulus Club will continue its role as an active, enthusiastic organization, dedicated to the ideals of our party."

PCHA Auditors Report Record in Total Assets

WAYNE--the Operating Committee of the Peoples Community Hospital Authority (PCHA) last Thursday Oct. 23 received a preliminary report from the auditing firm of Arthur Young & Company which revealed that the assets of the Authority increased approximately $1.9 million over assets of last year.

PCHA is now worth a record $36.3 million in total assets to the twenty-three communities participating in the Authority.

A full report will be made to the directors at their regular October board meeting this week.

OF PARTICULAR significance in the report, in addition to the increase in assets, is the increased revenue returned to PCHA communities in salaries, wages and fringe benefits.

Combined the four PCHA hospitals returned an average of 69.63 percent, or over $13.5 million to families and workers in their communities. This is an increase of $1,862,000 over the previous year.

The financial report also indicated that once again PCHA and its hospitals spent less than budget. Total operating expenses and capital expenditures amounted to $18,876,000 against a budget of $19,133,000.

HYMAN SAPAKIE, representing the auditing firm, reported that all tax assessments from participating communities were current and paid. These collections totalling $895,000 were received between June 1, 1968 and June 30, 1969. Specific hospital financial results were as anticipated, stated the auditors. Annapolis had revenues of $6,761,000, from which it paid $4,330,000 (68.45 percent) in wages, salaries and fringe benefits; Beyer Memorial had revenues of $3,378,000 paying out over $2,460,000, or 73.9 percent in wages and benefits; Outer Drive had revenues of $6,843,000, paying out 4,437,000, or 68.9 percent for the same; and, Seaway collected $3,192,000, paying out some $2,225,000, or 68.9 percent for wages and benefits.

The auditors again called the PCHA financial situation an excellent balance of income and expense, noting that all legal requirements for debt retirement had been satisfied.

Karl S. Klicka, M.D., PCHA Executive Director, indicated that wages, which traditionally represent the major factor in the cost of hospitalization, had increased $1,862,000 over last year.

"In 1968 we learned that our payroll had increased $2 million, and this year the increase is nearly the same amount," said Dr. Klicka.

"Despite these steady increases in the cost of labor," said the executive director, "Our method of running a system of co-ordinated hospital units continues to provide patient care at room charges that are below those of metropolitan hospitals in other areas."

Mobile Money Museum Of NBD Visits 2 Schools

ROMULUS--The seventh and eighth grade students in Romulus Junior High and St. Aloysius Schools took a walk through history this week when the Mobile Money Museum of the National Bank of Detroit visited their school.

The museum, part of an educational program sponsored by NBD, traces history through coins. Select examples of money from every period of history help students realize their heritage from past civilizations.

The students toured the museum-on-wheels in small groups while NBD tour guides explained the historical significance of the twelve exhibits.

THE CHILDREN were particularly interested in the "oddities," things used for money in ancient times, such as twists of tobacco, stone wheels from the Pacific, carved Jade circles from Japan, and knife-money from Africa.

The 200-300 coins in the Mobile Museum include such historical pieces as the coins of Alexander the Great, Julius Caesar, Charlemagne, Christopher Columbus, George Washington, and many other leaders of the past.

The museum also contains one of the world's first coins minted in the sixth century B.C.

THROUGH THIS unique educational program, the National Bank of Detroit strives to imbue students with an appreciation for the romance and beauty of artifacts from other civilizations, to show how a monetary system reflects a particular culture, and to present economics as a part of man's life from earliest times.

Last year, the first year of operation, over 70,000 students in some 200 public and parochial schools participated in this education program. This was the first visit of the Mobile Money Museum to Romulus Schools. It will return every two years for a new group of seventh and eighth grade students.

Kelsey-Hayes Company To Construct Plant

ROMULUS--Kelsey-Hayes Company announced that it is building a new plant for its H-H Products Division in the Milwaukee, Wisconsin, area. The announcement was made by R.A. Maxwell, the company's vice president of marketing.

The new plant, a 25,500-square-foot manufacturing and distribution facility, will be constructed on a 15-acre site in Mequon, north of Milwaukee. The division now operates out of a plant in Brown Deer, a Milwaukee suburb.

WHEN COMPLETED sometime in the spring of 1970, the new facility will enable the division to increase its production of disc brakes for recreational vehicles, lawn and garden tractors, and agricultural, industrial and construction equipment.

Recreational vehicles for which the division makes disc brakes include snowmobiles, golf carts, mini-bikes, all-terrain vehicles, travel trailers, campers and boat trailers.

"The new plant will make us better able to capitalize on the growing market for our disc brakes outside of the automobile and trucking industries", Maxwell said.

H-H PRODUCTS was formed in 1946 and began working on disc brakes in 1959.

The company was acquired by Kelsey-Hayes and given divisional status in 1968.

NO TAX INCREASE

Supervisors' Unit OK's Record Budget

Programs to combat juvenile delinquency in Wayne County will be strengthened under the $164.7 million budget which is before the County Board of Supervisors for final consideration this week.

The tentative budget produced by the supervisors after nearly a month of four-day-a-week Ways and Means Committee meetings is $2.4 million higher than the budget originally recommended by the County Board of Auditors. It will require no tax increase.

The supervisors added $100,000 to the allocation for Juvenile Court in response to a plea from Judge James H. Lincoln for more personnel. The Auditors already had provided 17 more caseworkers for the court, but Lincoln wanted 81.

HE TOLD the supervisors that some 3,000 youngsters brought to Juvenile Court by police during a year must be turned loose without any service whatsoever due to the shortage of staff.

The budget produced by Ways and Means came before the Board of Supervisors for preliminary consideration Monday, Oct. 27, with final adoption scheduled for 2 p.m. tomorrow, Thursday, Oct. 30.

A $2 million unappropriated surplus was earmarked for various purposes by the supervisors to cover most of the budget increase. Revenue estimates and the mandatory savings of County departments were increased slightly to close the gap.

A $1 increase in green fees at the County-owned Warren Valley Golf Course is contemplated to offset $75,000 of the budget increase. It was stated that the hike would bring the present fees of $3 for 18 holes weekdays and $4 weekends into line with those of most other courses.

Over-all, the tentative

supervisors asked Lincoln to submit recommendations for use of the funds later.

THE SUPERVISORS also added a nurse and two child care workers to the staff of the County shelter for neglected children.

"This is a responsible budget, a balanced budget that improves the levels of many public services for the people of Wayne County without any tax increase," said Ways and Means Chairman Frederick Yates, of Detroit, D-District 9.

"We recognized that other County agencies are short-staffed, too. But there just wasn't any more money and a majority of supervisors clearly felt that Juvenile Court was the area of greatest need."

PART OF the budget increase was mandatory--$375,000 was needed to cover increased boarding rates for care of Wayne County children in State schools and $298,500 was necessary to meet increased rates for employees hospitalization insurance.

The Ways and Means Committee earmarked $1.5 million for improved employee pension benefits in anticipation of an improvement being included in union contract negotiations.

The Committee also allotted $800,000 in anticipation of pay increases also being negotiated.

KAREN FEITAL IS BRIDE

Naval Officer and Wife Honeymoon In Jamaica

St. Joseph Catholic Church, in Dearborn, was reserved for the autumn wedding of Karen Marie Feitel, of Belleville, and Lieutenant Commander James Louis Hinkle, of Inkster. Their double ring vows were solemnized by the Rev. G. S. Brennan at five in the afternoon before an altar adorned with fall-colored gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Mr. and Mrs. Felix Feitel, of 11225 Morton-Taylor Road, Belleville are parents of the bride. The bridegroom, who made his home at 6760 S. Merriman Road, Inkster, is the son of Roy A. Hinkle, of 22322 Roxford, Detroit.

ESCORTED TO the sanctuary by her father, Karen appeared in a toe-touching creation of white silk organza. Fashioned with a high-rise waistline, the bodice was embellished with A'encon lace with inserts of the same lace used on the long, fitted sleeves. Cascading from the scooped neck gown was an organza train which fell to chapel length.

LT. CDR. AND MRS. JAMES L. HINKLE

A petaled headpiece of lace and tulle studded with crystals and seed pearls secured her silk illusion veil which drifted to mid-back length. Completing her bridal finery was a free-form arrangement of white roses, June bells, and baby's breath. Crepe over taffeta in pale orange was worn by the bride's sister, Sheryl Feitel, as she carried out the role of honor attendant.

Belleville friends of the bride forming the bridal coterie were Kristine Paulsen, Barbara Thetford, Susan Weber, and Kathy Kureth. Their long-sleeved punch-colored frocks were identical to the honor maid's accented with satin collars and cuffs and were accessorized by matching headresses and bouquets of autumn flowers.

MARK FEITAL, the bride's seven-year old brother, served as ringbearer. Best man was the bridegroom's brother, Tim Hinkle of Detroit. Others on the esquire side were Bob Burns, of Grand Rapids; Fred Feitel, of Belleville, and Ron Hinkle, of Hastings, brothers of the bride; and Roy Hinkle, the bridegroom's father.

At the reception which followed in the P.N.A. Hall, the 275 guests were greeted by Mrs. Feitel in a beige lace coat-dress ensemble with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

The newlyweds drove to Miami where they caught a plane for their week-long stay in Jamaica returned back to Michigan via motor. The Hinkles are now at home to their friends at 6760 S. Merriman Road, Apartment 205, Inkster.

Karen graduated from Belleville High School and attended Michigan State University for two years. Her husband, a graduate of Redford High and Olivet College, has been in the U.S. Navy for 10 years. He is currently commanding officer at the Naval Reserve Training Center, Dearborn.

THEY NEVER TASTE BETTER -- There's something about being cooked over a roaring fire on a nippy evening that gives the all-American hot dog that very special taste. And that was the case Saturday evening, October 18, as some 27 teenagers roasted their own at a bonfire at the Arthur Shephard home on Elwell Road, Belleville. The cook-out followed a hayride enjoyed by members of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the First United Methodist Church. Art Shephard pulled the wagon and covered the back trails of southern Van Buren Township. His son, Brian, acted as host when the group returned to his home. Caught by photographer Richard Smith as they circled the fire were (left to right) Ron Blumh, Tim White, Terri Morioka, and Rea Clark with Mrs. Shephard standing in the background.

Halloween Party Menu Hints

If there's to be a Halloween Party in your home and you are helping the apple bobbles and the cider sippers plan the refreshments, remember that franks in buns will please the young folks. Easy-to-eat, familiar foods are what they prefer.

Platters of plump, juicy franks tucked into buns...toasted or plain...will draw the young people to the refreshment like magic. Have pickle relish, sliced pickles, mustard, catsup, shredded cheese, and shredded lettuce for heaping on the franks in buns. The variety of toppings makes choosing different combinations fun.

The rest of the refreshments may vary. Potato or corn chips...doughnuts...apples and cider, of course...will give variety and plenty of food for those whose hearty appetites abound after dancing, ping-pong, and scary games.

Fresh and fragrant bacon ups the flavor of many dishes for meals anytime of the day. A very good sandwich that eats well for luncheon, supper or a late-night snack is this Bacon-Cheese Snack. Cooked and crumbled bacon with the sweet smoke taste is combined with shredded sharp Cheddar cheese, sliced stuffed olives, and some prepared mustard. Bind the mixture together with mayonnaise and spread it on bread. Serve the sandwich cold or broil it for hot service. The taste panel in the Martha Logan Kitchens where the recipe was developed rated this sandwich as...very good.

Another dish that received the same raving is Bacon and Creamed Eggs. This would be great for brunch, luncheon, or supper. For 4 to 5 servings, pan fry a pound of bacon and drain it on absorbent paper. Crumble 8 slices and keep the rest warm. Combine a can of cream of mushroom soup diluted with a quarter cup of milk and 4 sliced hard-cooked eggs. Season the mixture with a little leaf marjoram and thyme. Spoon the creamed eggs over toast, split English muffins, or corn bread and top with the crumbled bacon. Serve with the rest of the cooked bacon slices.

To enjoy the goodness you paid for...cook and serve bacon within 5 to 7 days of purchase. This way you will enjoy the fresh, good brown sugar cured flavor of bacon at its best.

MISS OELKE

Silver Bells Ring For The Whalens

A silver wedding anniversary party was held Saturday evening, October 18, for Bob and Leota Whalen at their home on Elwell Road, Belleville. Some 50 friends and relatives attended from Belleville, Wayne, Westland, Livonia, Dearborn, Wyandotte, and Springfield, Ohio.

The party was given by their daughter, Kathy. Another daughter, Karen Smith, and her husband, Second Lieutenant Bob Smith, traveled from Columbus, Georgia where he is stationed with the U.S. Army, for the special event.

The original wedding party, with the exception of the flowergirl, were present for the occasion: Leona Pierce, Mrs. Whalen's sister who was honor attendant; Dorothy Whalen Burkett, who was bridesmaid; Ben Whalen, Bob's brother, best man; and Henry Pierce, usher.

A BUFFET SUPPER with an entree of baked ham, fried chicken, and meat loaf, and other assorted dishes was served after which the honored pair cut their tiered wedding cake which was topped with a silver '25' and two turtle doves. The Whalens spent their actual wedding date, September 30, at Houghton Lake where they spent their honeymoon 25 years prior.

For the celebration, Mrs. Whalen donned a royal blue wool dress and a corsage of white carnations and pale yellow rose buds.

MR. AND MRS. DENNIS W. VAN ALLEN

Double Ring Rite Unites Local Pair

White gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar of St. Anthony's Catholic Church as Cheryl Marie Krakowiak walked the aisle with her father to become the bride of Dennis Wayne Van Allen. The eleven o'clock nuptials were read by Father J. B. Rose with some 400 attending the October 18 ceremony.

The double ring rite united the daughter of Steve Krakowiak, of 22940 Sherwood Road, Belleville, and Mrs. Lula Bell Krakowiak, of 47076 Willis Road, Belleville, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Allen, of 801 Savage Road, Belleville.

and a corsage of peach carnations.

Mrs. Van Allen chose for her son's wedding an avocado Lutescent dress with companion coat and matching accessories. A corsage of cymbidium orchids completed her ensemble.

Cheryl graduated from Belleville High School in 1967 and spent two years at Western Michigan University. Dennis, a 1966 Belleville High alumnus, served for three years with the U. S. Marine Corps and is currently employed at Draw-Tite, in Belleville.

WHITE SILK organza and Alencon lace were used to create the bride's wedding gown. The fitted bodice featured a Sabrina neckline accented with seed pearls and long, tapered sleeves trimmed in lace. From the fitted bodice an overskirt of organza and lace fell to formal length and into a chapel train as she walked. Her veil, bordered in matching lace, was secured by a petaled headpiece and she held cascading white carnations, ivy and peach sweetheart roses centered with a white orchid.

As her sister's honor attendant, Janet Krakowiak donned a floor-length velvet frock with an ivory bodice and deep brown skirt. Ivory lace, which banded the tight cut of the bishop sleeves, was repeated as edging on the stand-away collar.

Her headpiece was fashioned of three petals and peach veiling and her bouquet was comprised of peach and white carnations interspersed with tendrils of ivy.

Bridesmaids, identically gowned, were Debra Coughlin, of Birmingham, the bride's former college roommate; and Kathi Klepatz and Chris Ammon, both of Belleville.

Four-year old Julie Waltz, wearing a miniature version of the senior attendants' gowns, was flowergirl for her cousin. She wore peach carnations entwined in her hair and carried a white princess basket filled with peach and white carnations.

Mark Van Allen, the bridegroom's four-year-old nephew carried out the role of ringbearer.

RON VAN ALLEN traveled from La Grange, Illinois, to serve as his brother's best man. Ushers were Marty Sayvety, Don Suttles, and Earl Polenz, all of Belleville.

Breakfast was served to 100 guests at the P.N.A. Hall immediately after the ceremony. The evening reception there was attended by 400 friends and relatives.

For the occasion Mrs. Krakowiak wore a bone linen coat-dress ensemble with brown and peach accessories

Lose 10 lbs. in 10 days on Grapefruit Diet

HOLLYWOOD, CALIF. (Special) This is the revolutionary grapefruit diet that everyone is suddenly talking about. Literally thousands upon thousands of copies have been passed on hand to hand in factories, plants and offices throughout the U.S. and Canada.

Word of its success has spread like wildfire. Because this is the diet that really works. We have testimonials in our files reporting on the success of this diet. If you follow it exactly, you should lose 10 pounds in 10 days. There will be no weight loss in the first four days. But you will suddenly drop 5 pounds on the 5th day. Thereafter you will lose 1 pound a day until the 10th day. Then you will lose 1 1/2 pounds every two days until you get down to your proper weight. Best of all, there will be no hunger pang. Now revised and enlarged, this new diet plan lets you stuff yourself with foods that were formerly "forbidden," such as big steaks trimmed with fat, roast or fried chicken, rich gravies, mayonnaise, lobster swimming in butter, bacon fats, sausages and scrambled eggs. You can eat until you are full, until you cannot possibly eat any more. And still lose 10 pounds in the first ten days plus 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter until your weight is down to normal. The secret behind this new "quick weight loss" diet is simple. Fat does not form fat. And the grapefruit juice in this new diet acts as a catalyst (the "trigger") to start the fat burning process. You stuff yourself on the permitted food listed in the diet plan, and still lose unsightly fat and excess body fluids. When the fat and bloat are gone you will cease to lose weight and your weight will remain constant. A copy of this new and startlingly successful diet plan can be obtained by sending $2 to GRAPEFRUIT DIET PUBLISHERS, 1213 Premier Way S.W., Calgary 6, Alberta. Money-back guarantee. If after trying the diet plan you have not lost 7 pounds in the first seven days, and 1 1/2 pounds every two days thereafter, simply return the diet plan and your $2 will be refunded promptly and without argument. Tear out this message as a reminder. Decide now to regain the trim attractive figure of your youth, while enjoying hearty breakfasts, lunches and dinners.

Pack 735 Reports
on Good Time

ROMULUS--A good Scout always tries to "Be Prepared", and so do his leaders. But being prepared doesn't always mean an emergency.

Sometimes it's just to have a good time. That was what
Cub Scout Pack 735, Dens
1, 2, and 3 were prepared to do on Saturday evening,
October 18th.

Sixty five or more mothers, dads and Cub Scouts met at the home of the Robert Schultz's (Tyler Road) at 6:30 p.m.

Two hay wagons and tractors were waiting and,
after loading with excited families, they made a leisurely tour of the backroads. When they returned to the Schultz home they found a scavenger hunt was organized.

ARMED WITH flashlights and sharp-eyed youngsters the five teams scattered to find a list of 25 items.

After the winning team had been selected and awarded a prize, the entire group gathered around a roaring bon fire to enjoy do-nuts, chocolate and coffee. The evening was over and everyone on their way home by 9 p.m.

The Cubs wish every Pack meeting could be like that,
and Cub Master Leroy Sims and Den Mothers; Donna
Gavin, Jeanette Sims, Gloria
Chandler, Carolyn Schultz,
Gayle Phillips and Judy
Martin do have many other plans for imaginative activities, but all agree that Saturday was a "real fine evening."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

At its meeting on Monday, November 10, 1969, the Romulus Board of Education will hold a public hearing on the proposed

The proposed budget will be available for inspection at the offices of the Board of Education from 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.,

For Belleville Discussed

'Community Medical and Mental Health Services'

BELLEVILLE -- Approximately fifteen percent of the children in the Van Buren Public Schools could probably benefit from medical, dental or mental health evaluations.

Since there are, in rounded-out figures, 7,000 pupils in grades kindergarten through twelve, fifteen percent would represent a total of 1,050 pupils. This included those children with behavior problems or emotional disturbances, those children who are slow-learners or mentally retarded and trainable.

Percentage of public school children with emotional problems -- 10 percent.

Percentage of public school children who learn slower than the average child -- 16 percent.

Combination of percentages who would probably benefit from medical or dental, or mental health diagnostic evaluations -- 15 percent.

BEFORE A classroom teacher can be sure she is helping these children, she must know that any physical cause of the problems have been ruled out, cared for or will take care of themselves in time.

She needs to know that she is not encouraging a child to do something he CANNOT do because of physical or maturational limitations.

Eagle Notes

BY JEFF DAHLSTROM

Heave, Heave, Ho! Heave, the tug of war went on.

This marked the beginning of Homecoming week. It was held in Metro Park over a creek. Everyone managed to get wet as the Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores tied in point values.

The Freshman trailed behind but were not to be forgotten. I knew what it was like as I pulled for the Sophomores, it was rough and tough but a lot of fun.

Where is it? I don't know! This was heard a lot on Tuesday night as a scavenger hunt got into progress.

THE SOPHOMORES were first back with the sought after striped ball. The freshman really got down to it, taking second place. The seniors made a third place standing, and the Juniors oh well! The obstacle course was a barrel of fun. There was a low hurdle, and a barrel to crawl through. There were little tricycles to ride around a light post, and a sack to put on and jump in, and finally a fruit dunk. You bobbed for the fruit till you got the fruit.

On Thursday, the field lit up and filled with warmth as the annual bon-fire got under way. Thanks for a little help from our friends.

Friday school let out early so as to view the homecoming parade. Everyone felt groovy as their class float went by. There were also a number of cars.

We cannot forget the game, see the sports section.

R.W. Slone Stationed In Vietnam

RONALD SLONE

Marine Private First Class Ronald W. Slone, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Slone of 46616 McBride, is serving with Maintenance Battalion, Force Logistic Command in Vietnam.

The battalion provides maintenance for combat equipment and vehicles used by Marine forces operating in South Vietnam's northernmost tactical zone.

DR. LOUIS E. HEIDEMAN

Additionally, the teachers need to know what she can do to help a child who has a particular physical or mental health problem.

Although school teachers and educators talk with parents and through them refer children to private physicians, psychologists, mental or physical health agencies or hospitals, special schools or specialists working within the schools, there are

Words of Caution Issued To Trick or Treaters

LANSING--That night for the traditional cavorting through the countryside of Witches and Hobgoblins is almost here.

And the Trick-or-Treaters are poised for their annual invasion of residential neighborhoods on Friday night (Oct. 31).

Words of caution on traffic safety already are going out from police agencies to the children, their parents, and motorists.

Another voice of safety is speaking out today, although its major concern is for health protection.

Dr. Gerald Rice, Director of the Michigan Department of Public Health, today issued some simple but prudent words of advice to parents and the boys and girls planning "trick or treat" tours.

DR. RICE says his prime concern is with the various unwrapped edible goodies which come from numerous sources, pass through many hands, and finally end up in the child's Trick-or Treat sack.

These items, he cautions, are a potential danger to health because they can be carriers of harmful bacteria.

This multiple handling of candy and foodstuffs, when the articles are not wrapped, is a practice health officials want to curb. The best answer, it is noted, is for donors to pass out only factory-wrapped candy and other goodies.

Dr. Rice points to apples and other hand fruits as an exception to the rule. These need not be wrapped, he says, but parents should make certain the fruit is thoroughly washed before being eaten.

ANOTHER CONCERN not to be overlooked is the children's teeth. Dr. Chester V. Tossy, Chief of the state health department's Division of Dentistry, suggests that parents limit the amount of candy their youngsters consume.

not enough of these agencies and specialists available to take care of the needs. Consequently, alternative aids need to be devised.

A MEETING was held at the VBPS Administration Building on Oct. 15 to discuss the initiation of a Community Medical and Mental Health Services Program in Belleville.

The meeting was organized by Title III Coordinators: Clyde Batzer, Sam LoPresto, Mrs. Clara Packard and Clyde (Bud) Stapleton.

Dr. Louis E. Heideman, pediatrician, executive director of project PRESCAD addressed the meeting. Dr. Heideman discussed difficulties encountered in communication "about a child" between agencies and professionals because of privileged communication laws. He indicated the tremendous need for parental involvement in medical (or dental) and mental health processes.

HE SUGGESTED that teachers should be confident of their skills to work with individual children and that in-service teacher training could benefit teachers by giving them this confidence. He suggested that a Community Medical and Mental Health Service Program would NOT be able to take care of ALL existing needs today or tomorrow, but would best begin at a preventive level, working first with the youngest children, maintaining these children when indicated, while continuing to add new groups of young children.

An interdisciplinary approach to present the greatest potential for a Belleville Health Service Program.

NOT ALL EDUCATIONAL PROBLEMS SHOW UP AS MEDICAL PROBLEMS

Aside from the 15 percent of children in the public schools with medically significant difficulties, there is another group of children, probably 7-9 percent who have difficulties which are not usually of medical significance but which are educationally handicapping.

These children are average or higher intellectually but they do not do well academically. They are children with learning disabilities. This child, for example, might not be able to follow directions because he cannot distinguish the teacher's voice from other background noises.

THIS CHILD passes hearing tests but he DOES have what educators (diagnosticians, and psychologists primarily) call an auditory discrimination problem or an auditory-perceptual problem.

There is no known "cure" for this difficulty but the child with it usually suffers in school and falls or becomes a behavior problem or both. It is possible, however, to prevent the failures and behavior problems by revamping the educational program as it does not make the child a failure or contribute to this behavior problem.

How?? This child MAY outgrow his perceptual problem by the time he is eight or nine years old. Only then is he able to learn in the usual academic sense. If the child's problem is not made basis for educational acceptance and promotion when he cannot possibly meet the challenge, then he will not "flunk" or become a behavior problem.

FOR EXAMPLE: If a child has a visual-perceptual problem where he writes upside-down because his muscles have not learned to translate what he sees on paper yet -- and if, to pass in school, he HAS to write -- we have put an obstacle in his path which he cannot meet. He may be able to write when he is eight or nine, but not before and not necessarily then.

The school program for this child needs to plan around this, not try to fit him to the mold of a textbook which includes writing for success.

Title III will begin in the fall of 1970 to try to arrange a process for expedient and accurate evaluation of children with learning disabilities associated with educational problems, but not necessarily, today, of medical significance.

Work with parents will be primary to this process. Far too often a child is referred for medical evaluation who is diagnosed as 'normal -- no problem' when the school teachers, parents, school diagnostician or psychologist see an educationally significant problem which may or may not alter with more years of maturation.

This is not to say or infer that the medical diagnosis was in error but only to state that an educationally significant problem may or may not be a medically significant problem.

Parents should be aware of this and work with the teacher and school personnel to benefit the child who has such a handicap.

Community Relations Group Sets Meeting

ROMULUS--The Romulus Community Relations Commission cordially invites all organizations and citizens of the community, regardless of color, creed or religion, to attend the showing of a film titled "Boundry Lines"-"Pictures in Your Mind", which will be held at Romulus Junior High School, 11401 Olive Street, on Monday, Nov. 3, at 7:30 p.m. sharp.

The purpose of the Relations Commission is to encourage and bring about mutual understanding and respect among all groups in the township, eliminate prejudice, intolerance, bigotry, discrimination, and disorder occasioned thereby, and give effect to the guarantee of equal rights for all assured by the constitution and the laws of this state and the United States.

The commission, at its meeting of Oct. 14, adopted a program for November, 1969, through May 1970, which will be published each month of the presentation of the program.

Regular meetings are held the first Monday of every month, which the community is welcome to attend and express their opinions on any problem facing the community.

The October meeting included two guest speakers, Mrs. Georgia Badgett, Assistant Principal at the Senior High School, and Miss Shirley, Counselor at the Junior High School. They both gave very educational comments on both schools.

Santa Claus Workshop Was Theme of Recital

ROMULUS--Santa's Workshop displayed last Friday (Oct. 24) the beautiful dolls that every little girl dreams of getting on Christmas morning. But, these dolls were live.

Donna Rae's Dancing Studio gave their first recital at the Romulus Junior High School. Their theme was Santa Claus and his Northpole Workshop.

Thirty one girls took part in the performance, according to Donna Rae Sutor, owner, and they did a beautiful job, she said. Their ages ranged between three and 14 years, and they all love to perform, she said.

TWIRLING AWARDS were made at the recital and they were given to the following girls: Senior Winner, First Place Trophy to Cathy Della Casa. Runner-up award of a medal to Tracy Sobczak. Junior First Place Award of a medal to Deanna Sobczak. Runner-up Award of a medal to Vicki Wilks. Little six-year-old Lisa Christianson won a wrist watch for selling the most tickets to the performance.

Miss Sutor offered performances, without charge, to any group wishing a program for their meeting, she can be reached at PA 8-8931.

Her studio is located at 36607 Goddard Road, Romulus. Studio Hours are Tuesdays; 5:30-8:00. Wednesdays; 10:30 - 8:00. Fridays; 5:30 - 8:00 and Saturdays from 3:30 - 6:00.

TB Can Be Controlled, Conquered

ROMULUS--Tuberculosis, historically the greatest killer of mankind, often referred to as the White Plague, can now be controlled and conquered with a medication.

When detected in its early stages, TB can be treated while the patient continues with his normal activities. Often in the case of a working person, there is no interruption of employment.

It was during World War Two that Streptomycin was first used on tubercular patients. The results were so dramatic that the research continued so that now there is a chemical cure for what was once the scourge of mankind.

SUGGESTION

Trick or Treat

Many children will be seriously hurt and others will be fatally injured this year, as the children of America observe the "Trick or Treat" aspect of Halloween.

These injuries and fatalities occur in spite of a flood of safety educational information appearing in the news media, both in print and on radio and television.

Children suffer severe burns from wearing flammable costumes. Children are struck by cars as they hurry across streets, their vision obscured by ill fitting masks. Sometimes it is a burn from lighted candles instead of the safer flashlight or other type of electric illumination.

The Greater Detroit Safety Council suggests a safer and more exciting way to spend Halloween Evening. Instead of trick or treat, why not a neighborhood 'S p o o k - I n' party?

A party in each block for the neighborhood youngsters, could save many injuries and perhaps a life.

Information on holding a safe and fun filled party, including details for a number of exciting party games will be sent free to anyone requesting it.

Send self addressed stamped envelop to - Greater Detroit Safety Council, 857 Virginia Park, Detroit, Michigan 48202. Ask for "Halloween Spook-In".

More than 800,000 Michigan adults - about one in six - have some degree of high blood pressure, and 7 out of every 10 are between 20 and 64, the Michigan Heart Association reports.

Under current law, according to Robert M. FitzGerald, Regional Office Manager of the VA in Detroit, qualified widows of wartime veterans who have died of causes not related to their service are eligible if their income is no more than $2,000 if they have no children, and no more than $3,200 if they do.

If a widow does not qualify for a pension because of a higher income or because she remarries, her children may still be eligible to receive pensions.

Pensions are based on need, FitzGerald explained. Compensation is paid to the survivors of veterans who die of service-connected causes, and the income of the survivor has no bearing on eligibility or the amount paid.

Persons seeking further information were urged to contact their nearest VA office, FitzGerald said.

Romulus Ninth Grade Students Get TB Test

ROMULUS--Ninth grade students at Romulus High School were part of a six county program known as the Southeastern Michigan Tuberculosis Detection Project Recently (Oct. 14).

The test was given under the direction of the School Nurse, Mrs. Eleanor Maw, who was assisted by three mothers: Mrs. Jean Savage, Mrs. Sally Arrington and Mrs. Stanley Martin.

More than 300 boys and girls were given a subcutaneous test, the results were read on Friday, Oct. 17.

A POSITIVE reaction indicated only that the individual had been exposed to Tuberculosis, further testing with X-rays are necessary to determine whether it is an inactive calcification or an active case. The X-rays are arranged for through a follow up procedure by the School Nurse and are done at the Wayne County Health Department.

TALUS Publishes Findings on Platting Activity

Involves Seven Counties

A complete summary of platting activity in the seven counties of Southeast Michigan between 1950 and 1967 has been published by TALUS (Detroit Regional Transportation and Land Use Study).

First of its kind for so large an area in Michigan the report shows that in the 17-year period, 276,700 lots were platted for residential development.

The average plat comprised 20 gross acres, contained 50 lots averaging 12,000 to 13,000 square feet in size, and was improved to contain 3.4 residences per acre.

Irving J. Rubin, TALUS director, said:

"FUTURE REGIONAL housing requirements can be better understood through a systematic analysis such as this of past platting activity combined with data on building permits, sewer and water service, and information on housing type, age and condition.

"These data, combined with projections of households by life cycle and by income to TALUS analysis zone will enable a more detailed prediction of future housing requirements than has been possible previously.

"This report, thus, is a part of the initial work on the regional Housing Study which the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG) has been authorized to conduct with funds from the Department of Housing and Urban Development."

THE DISTRIBUTION of platted areas combined with proposed freeway, sewer and water networks enable forecast of residential growth patterns in heretofore undeveloped areas, he said.

Among the TALUS findings:

*Despite an ever-increasing population, during the 17-year period total gross acreage, recorded plats, and number of platted residential lots decreased steadily. Forty percent of the activity occurred from 1950-55. Conversely, the ratio of apartment units constructed increased from five percent to total new housing units in 1956 to 45 percent in 1967.

*Platting activity absorbed 172.4 square miles (3.8 percent) of the total 4,555 square miles in the region.

*AVAILABILITY OF public facilities obviously influenced platting activity; 81 percent of lots platted were located within 1965 sewer service areas; and 87 percent were located within five miles of a freeway interchange.

*Forty-one percent of all land platted was in Oakland County where 1,861 plats were recorded and eight percent (70.4) square miles of the country's land was platted.

*Of the seven counties, Washtenaw was the only one which consistently recorded as increase in platted gross acreage in each five year period covered by the report. *The City of Warren experienced more platting activity than any other community in the region; 10.4 square miles of Warren land were platted to provide 25,834 residential lots.

'Private Lives' Is a Period Piece

BY HOWARD ALLEN
ANP Amusement Critic

The Association of Producing Artists has concluded its University of Michigan Professional Theatre Program run with a production of Noel Coward's old warhorse, "Private Lives." The gloss is an inch thick.

This is probably as it should be. Coward's tale of a divorced couple thrown together on their honeymoons to second spouses is a highly stylized venture today. Any attempt to modernize it would be fatal. It must be presented as an unashamed period piece and this director Stephen Porter wisely done.

James Tilton's set is straight out of an old RKP movie and the music is straight out of those huge floor console radios, coming to you from one of those Saturday night dance parties from high atop some metropolitan hotel cabaret. Only in this framework can one of Coward's lines like, "This is sheer madness," be accepted as anything less than a cliché from the late, late show.

Granted this, then Coward retains his old bite. His divorced lovers flee from their new spouses to her Paris apartment, but the old furies which severed them are not dead and before long they are bawling as badly as ever. Tammy Grimes and Brian Bedford tackle Coward's mots with the crisp delivery they require. APA proves once again that whom it says repertory it means highly diversified repertory. "Private Lives" is about as far as you can get from "Chronicles of Hell."

Let anyone think that Gordon Parks is not versatile, be it noted that he wrote an autobiographical novel called "The Learning Tree," then adapted it for the screen, produced it, directed it and scored it. The result has the impact of simplicity. Parks is a corner.

"Learning Tree" is an exceedingly gentle film, affectionate and nostalgic but in no way clawing. Kansas, generations back, may not have been Mississippi, but the vein of prejudice ran deeply enough to give the picture a bitter bite. Contrasting patterns of existence are depicted, by comparing young Parks to the son of a drunk, a boy beaten by life into the mold of a hood doomed to the fruits of the ghetto.

Meanwhile, Parks is firmly guided by his soft spoken mother, overcoming his reluctance to testify against the black murderer of his white employer. This in a community where the lawman approaches the caricature of a southern redneck.

Newcomer Kyle Johnson gives a sensitive performance, guided by Parks who has a natural touch for the film media; he lacks formal training so call it a gift. And call "Learning Tree" a gift for the public.

There are some excellent shots of the excitement of a New Orleans Saints-Cleveland Browns football game in "Number One," capturing all the color and flair. Then they went and added a story and spoiled it all.

"Number One" depicts the final days of glory of Charlton Heston, aging Saint all time quarterback, "Cat" Catlin, jousting with the problems of an unhappy marriage at a period when he knows he should retire from the game but can not bring himself to give up the taste of the hero's triumph. His wife, a successful designer, no longer cares after years of futility to cater to his every whim and when he tells her she will quit the designing business if she loves him, she says she will if he will. Catlin, naturally, winds up in somebody else's bed.

It is made quite plain to Catlin that youth is fast fading; if he is to change careers, it must be now. But the ruthless coach persuades him he has another couple of years left. If this sounds like it could easily degenerate into soap opera, rest assured that it can and it does. There are a few more interesting grid shots at the end, but it's too long a wait.

"The Mad Room" is an unpretentious but underrated little horror-suspense film which may be the best of the genre since "Wait Until Dark." Stella Stevens is the secretary to wealthy Shelley Winters. Stella accepts custody of her younger brother, 18, and sister, 16, just released from a mental home where they spent 12 years for murdering their parents. And now the nasty Miss Winters is found hacked to bits... Highly effective.

Another Dismal Year For Gridders

Tigers Waste Fant's Spectacular TD Run

Aching Romulus Yields, 22-12

BY JIM BRADLEY

Plymouth stuck a Thorn(bladh) in Belleville's side Friday night, roaring from a 6-0 first quarter deficit to take their first Suburban Six League victory, 20-12, Friday night before an ecstatic home crowd. The two become "cellar fellers" as they wound up in the loop basement with identical 1-4 records.

Bob Thornblad scored two touchdowns to bring the Rocks their first loop win and looked much like the Thornblad of old as he ripped off huge chunks of yardage in addition to his touchdown runs of 3 and 21 yards. "Thorny," as he is nicknamed by his coaches and team mates, helped Plymouth to smell the roses.

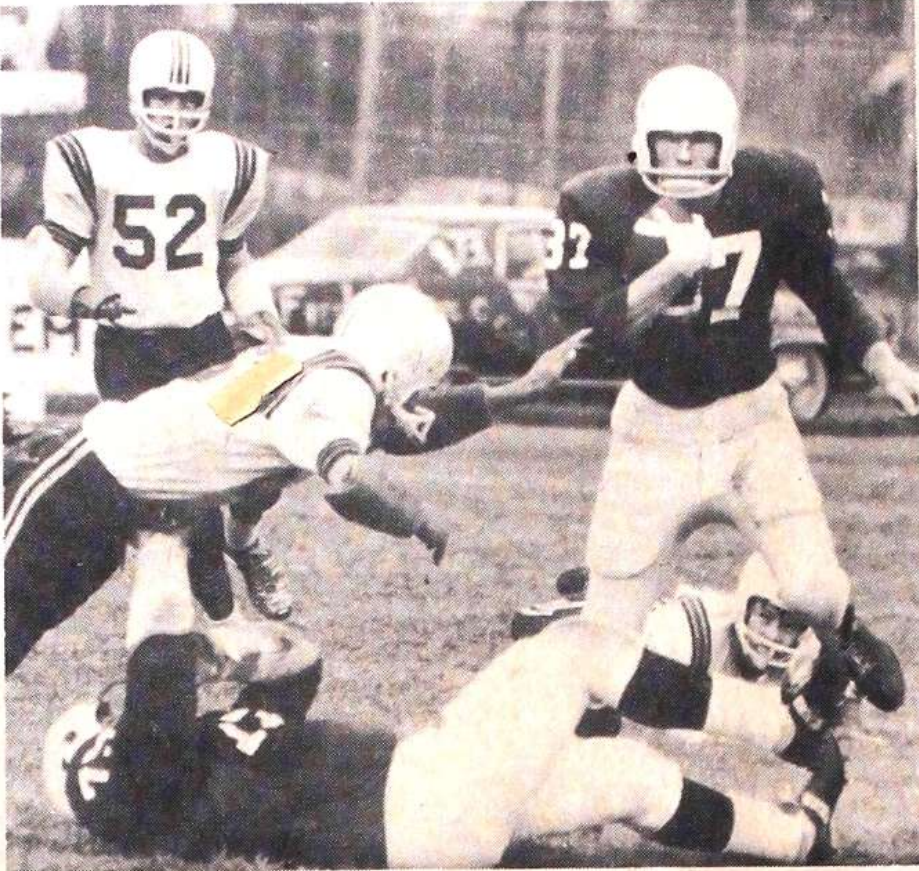

Quarterback Jon Cederberg scampered 7 yards on a naked reverse for the go-ahead touchdown and intercepted a pass on the goal line to stop Belleville's dangerous attempt to take the lead just 22 seconds before the half. The Tigers were third-and-six on the six when Cederberg grabbed Belleville quarterback Dick Wenzel's pass on the goal line and fell forward to the two yard line to stop the Tiger threat.

Belleville broke the ice with 2:37 left in the first quarter when Dick Wenzel bucked over from one foot out on last down after Plymouth had put up a very stout defense. Wenzel's pass to halfback Garrade Pettus was no good and Belleville led, 6-0.

Plymouth took the following kickoff and zoomed 62 yards in just 7 plays to knot the count. Dan Chopp, running in exciting, daring fashion rambled 31 yards on a power sweep around left end to set up Thornblad's 3-yard score. A 10-yard pass from Cederberg to Thornblad on 4th and 5 kept the drive alive.

Plymouth edged into the lead with just 2:27 left in the first half when Cederberg capped a 51-yard drive in 13 plays by racing around left end on a naked reverse for seven yards.

COAST IS CLEAR-With teammate Tim Sypula (on the ground) providing the necessary blocking, Romulus' David Brown (37) found the coast clear for yardage. But the Eagles didn't go far. The Flyers spoiled their bid for a conference and homecoming victory.

BY JIM BRADLEY
ANP Sports Writer

In the nursery rhyme, Jack Spratt could eat no fat. In real life it's a wonder Romulus football coach George Pratt has any appetite at all.

His team always manages somehow to "pull defeat from the jaws of victory," as someone has well said. Last Friday was no exception. After leading Willow Run 12-8 at the half, the Eagles managed to fritter away scoring chances and wind up on the short end of a 22-12 score in their Homecoming game before a capacity crowd Friday afternoon, thus ending up in the Twin Valley League cellar with an 0-3 mark.

But for a while it looked like Romulus had the steam to pull this one out. After Willow Run marched down the field to score, Romulus came to life.

The first period was a time of testing each other's defenses and neither team could put the pigskin into the endzone until Willow Run marched down to the Romulus nine and a first down. Three runs at the line left the visitors three yards short. The jam-packed Romulus stands, bulging with returned former students, gave their full-throated support. But shifty halfback Gary Davis took a pitch-out from quarterback Harold Robertson and danced around end for three yards and the touchdown. Robertson hit Willbert Gardette for the two-point conversion and the Flyers led, 8-0.

Romulus took the following kickoff and began to make noises. End Bruce Jackson took the short boot and returned to his 45. Then Dave Brown, Dan Chapo and Rance Thomas began tearing the Flyers' line to shreds.

The three alternated to pick up three first downs in a drive to Willow Run's 21. Brown ripped to the 17 and then it looked like the same old "lightning" was striking again. Quarterback Chris Glinski tried a sneak into the middle and fumbled on the 15 and the visitors recovered, to the groans of the assembled partisans.

Things looked bleak, but on first down Robertson dropped back and shot a pass to his 25. Defensive back (Continued on 2nd Sports)

THE SPORTS MERIDIAN

By Tom Mooradian

My wife, who is really a dream, stamped her foot and screamed in a fashion her predecessors had learned many eons ago and declared with her umpteenth ultimatum, "You're going to take me to see Jean Claude Killy tonight, so forget about football."

I pleaded. I begged. I implored and then I ran out of verbs.

"But, honey, I have to cover a football game. You know that and, besides, haven't you heard Killy is predacious?"

"Oh, no he isn't, he's French," she answered.

I tried to explain but how do you explain anything to a woman? I said that I heard Killy tell J.P. earlier in the day, "that when he was asked what he thought of American women, he (Killy) answered "that I enjoy American women". That dirty young, good-looking Frenchman.

"And, besides, if I do take you, how do you know you'll be seeing the real Jean Claude?" I asked.

She gave me that enigmatical glance, "Would you kindly explain that," she demanded.

I told her the story of "Jean Fraud", the Frenchmen who several months ago impersonated Jean Claude who apparently had the charisma and the looks of the ski god.

"Heck, the impostor was so good that Playboy Club gave him a car and Hertz rented him cars and banks cashed his checks and women . . . Well, let's forget that.

"Did they catch the impostor?" the Mrs. asked.

"Are you kidding. This guy was so good that he appeared on television and even had the audacity to drive around in a Ford vehicle."

"What's wrong with that? You drive a Ford, don't you?"

"Yes, dear, but Jean Claude's sponsor in the United States is Chevrolet."

You see, dear, you may not even be seeing the real thing if I take you. Why don't you just imagine that I'm Jean Claude and forget the trip to the armory?"

"Now, you must be kidding," she replied.

She went without me. Does any one out there know a good lawyer?

You don't often see Russians landing in the States and getting applause for their invasion. But, you've got to give credit to those Russky boxers who won the inaugural tourney, 6-4.

But I was more impressed with the sparring that was taking place at ringside between sportscaster Howard Cosell and the heavyweight champion of the world, Cassius Mohammed Ali Clay.

While the Reds and the Red-White-and-Blues were batting each others' brains out, these two fine gentlemen were carrying on a verbal battle that was equally colorful.

"Harold, do you think you could take one of those punches?" asked the heavyweight champ during the commentary.

"No, I don't think I could," replied Cosell, "and by the looks of your stomach, I don't think you could take one either."

Cassius, who was a Golden Glove, an Olympic champ, and undefeated World Heavyweight champ, of course, is still trying to waggle himself loose from a federal sentence slapped on him for violation of the draft.

But he's not worried, apparently, for he feels he still has a future in the ring.

"You were knocked out by a southpaw, weren't you Cassius?" asked Cosell.

"Yeh. That's why I'm watching these heavier weights closely because these guys can be future contenders to my heavyweight crown."

"And I'm surprised these Russians are doing so good," added Ali.

Hey, Ali, you better get your punches straight. It's not the Reds, but the Feds who you should be concerned about!

The play came immediately after a dog had wandered into the huddle from the sidelines and had to be chased off the field. It's not thought, however, that he brought in the play from the sidelines.

The Rocks, keeping defensive pressure on Belleville, took their 12-6 halftime lead through the third period until just 51 seconds remained. Here, Thornblad showed the dazzling ability that won him area-wide honors by sweeping left end for 21 yards with a burst of speed to again light (Continued on 2nd Sports)

HERE WE GO AGAIN--Romulus' Rance Thomas (27) glances over at the ref and the ball after scoring for the Eagles. But the Romulus squad didn't have enough scoring power against Willow Run and surrendered a 22-12 Twin Valley and homecoming decision to the Flyers.

Huron, suffering from the doldrums and frustrations of league competition, found a cure at Harper Woods last week as Coach Lee Smeltzer's Chiefs cut a 21-game losing streak with a 14-6 nonleague victory.

Whether that cure will also work for the Chiefs in the Huron Conference where they're scraping the cellar, it is yet to be seen. Smeltzer's boys return to league action Friday night as hosts to third place Grosse Ile.

Karate Comes To Romulus High

Karate, that ancient art of physical and mental discipline, is being offered by the Romulus Parks & Recreation Department each Monday and Wednesday at Romulus Senior High.

The classes, under the supervision of Edward B. Sell and his Korean-born wife, Hyon Suk, are opened to all age groups of both sexes.

The first and only American to be awarded the coveted Black Belt, Sell feels that every American should find time to participate in such classes.

"Karate helps to build confidence and good character," the 27-year-old former Air Force Staff Sgt. says. "I think the motto: 'to give strength to the weak, and confidence to the timid,' amply describes why one should learn Karate techniques."

Sell, who has a studio in Trenton and who recently set up shop in Ypsilanti, was invited by the Romulus Parks & Recreation Department to organize Karate classes in the area.

The evening classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. in the upstairs gym at the senior high school.

There is a $10 fee for the junior age group (8 to 14 years-of-age); $12:50 for high school students; and $15 for adults, 18 years and over.

Women may register at the high school student rates.

Mrs. Sell, who holds the highest rank in America — a second degree Black Belt — will head the instructions for the girls. She says that women will be able to ward off would-be attackers or muggers by using techniques offered in Karate.

The Sells presently have 400 students in the state. They make their home in Trenton.

tough time convincing their host to let go of the decision. Most of the convincing was done in the second and third quarters after Harper Woods held the Chiefs scoreless for 12 minutes.

Glenn Dregansky provided the key blow that broke the deadlock when he polished off the last 20-yards of a 67-yard drive with a second period TD. He set his own score up on the previous play when he broke off tackle, reversed to the left side of the field and ran 47 yards.

Chuck Daroci's four-yard TD run gave Huron its second tally of the game—it came in the third period. Tom Umin ran in the two-point conversion.

Coach Smeltzer decided to use his bench in the closing minutes of the game and Harper Woods didn't waste any time capitalizing on his generosity.

H.P. came up with three pass plays which covered 70, 20, and five yards to score in the last seconds of the game to avert the shutout.

Linebacker Joe Richert gave an excellent account of himself on defense while Dregansky provided the Chiefs with 107 yards in 10 carries.

"Though I'm happy with the victory," said Coach Smeltzer after posting his first triumph as the Chiefs' head coach, "we're a long way from calling ourselves a team."

"It is, however, a good start," he said.

ANN ARBOR—Michigan sophomore Glenn Doughty in his first game ever as a running back gained 138 yards from scrimmage in the Wolverines 1969 opener against Vanderbilt.

Darden Scores

Romulus Junior High School quarterback Mike Darden figured into all of his team's scoring as Coach Bill Thomas' squad shut out Southgate Davidson, 22-0, last week.

Darden sprinted 33 and 25 yards for touchdowns and hooked up with Roy Hollis on a 42-yard scoring pass-play to account for three TDs.

He also hit Hollis for one of the two-point conversions.

Fullback Jomal Miller, though he wasn't able to cross the goal line, rushed for 90 yards for the victors.

Gun Importation Law Cited

You can still import that Spanish shotgun you've had your eye on, according to Orville J. Turner, IRS Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Chief Special Investigator for Michigan and Northern Ohio.

The only difference under the new law is that it is generally unlawful for anyone other than a licensed importer or dealer to transport or receive any firearm purchased or obtained outside the United States, Turner said.

However, Turner pointed out that an importer or dealer located in the purchaser's state of residence and holding a valid license under the Act must submit an application to the IRS Director of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms Division, to import the firearm ordered by an individual.

To do this, he said, the licensed importer or dealer should file the application, Form 6, (Firearms), showing himself as the importer and the individual as the consumer. The foreign shipper should be instructed to ship the firearm to the licensee.

IN THIS way, the delivery of the firearms would then be made between the individual and the licensee in the state of residence, with the dealer recording the receipt and sale, as is necessary under the law Turner said.

A permit must be obtained for all firearms to be imported, regardless of the date purchased, the IRS official added. However, this does not apply to a firearm previously taken out of the country by the person bringing it in, or under certain circumstances, to members of the Armed Forces.

The Bureau of Customs is authorized to release a firearm without a permit from IRS on seeing proof that the firearm was simply being brought back into the U.S. by the same person who took it out.

ANN ARBOR--Michigan's Willie Heston holds the 100-year college scoring record with 72 touchdowns. He played in 1901, 1902, 1903 and 1904 at Michigan. This fact is contained in the new college football All-Time Record Book.

4 Hunters Return With Deer

ROMULUS--Four area deer hunters returned home last Thursday, Oct. 23 from Big Horn Mountains, Wyoming, with successful kills. They were:

Edward Winekoff of 39236 Wade, Romulus, his brother-in-law Jack Bousquet of Garden City and Douglas Munson and David Fox, both of Ann Arbor.

Three of the "mule deer", all four pointers, were bagged the first day of hunting by the foursome. The fourth deer, that of Bousquet was a spike horn deer and shot later.

They spent a week at Ranger Creek Ranch in Big Horn Mountains. Their guide, Bud Spencer from Shell, Wyoming, drove the hunters around in a jeep through the mountains where they saw many mule deer, 20 elk and coyotes and "believe it or not" a rabbit with horns called a "jackalope."

Romulus Yields

Tony Hoffman stepped in front of the receiver and raced down the right sidelines into the endzone to make it 8-6. Brown was stopped on the conversion run, but Willow Run was offside. Chapo tried the right side of his line on the gift second try and was stopped cold and the score remained 8-6.

Sparked by the touchdown and the large homecoming crowd, Romulus played inspired defense and forced the Flyers to kick. Then the Eagles flew 52 yards in 7 plays to leap into the lead. With Brown literally exploding through holes and and end and Thomas bursting up the middle, Romulus moved to the Willow Run 25 where they faced a 3rd - and - six.

Thomas hit for two yards and Willow Run turned down a 15-yard penalty against Romulus to bring up a fourth down. It looked like a gigantic goof when Thomas blasted off his own right tackle on the next play and sprinted 25 yards to paydirt. The extra point run by Brown was stopped but the homecoming crowd basked in the sunlit beauty of a 12-half time lead.

If you believe in symbolism, how's this for one? All during the first half, the huge bonfire from Thursday night's rally continued to burn in an open field to the north of the football field while boys tried to douse the remaining flickering flames. They managed to extinguish the flames in the second half and Willow Run extinguished the flames of hope for Romulus by scoring 14 points in the second half to win.

Romulus took the second half kick and moved crisply for 39 yards and three first downs before turning the ball over on downs to their visitors on Willow Run's 36. The Flyers then used their blasting fullback, Randy George, to hammer down the field for the go-ahead touchdown. With George carrying on almost every play, and ripping huge holes in the Eagle defensive wall, Willow Run scored from the three on last down to edge in front, 14-12, with only 24 seconds left in the third quarter.

The Flyers moved 64 yards in 10 plays with George carrying seven times for 54 of those yards. The kick was blocked and Willow Run led, 14-12. Romulus, trying to get back into the game through the air, had its quarterback Ginski tackled in the endzone for a two-point safety and a 16-12 Flyer lead.

Willow Run took Bill Worden's free kick after the safety on their own 42 and sped 58 yards in just 7 plays to ice the contest.

Robertson capped the drive with a 32-yard scoring toss to halfback Paul Ashford who was all alone on the left sideline. Eagle Russ Reaume, playing his usual outstanding defensive game, blocked his second extra point kick but the issue was settled, 22-12. Romulus couldn't mount a serious threat after that and went down to its third Twin Valley League defeat and finished in the basement with an 0-3 record.

The winless Eagles travel to Inkster this Friday afternoon and return home the following week to close out their season against Robichaud.

PILE-UP--Romulus' Dave Brown (37) finds himself on the bottom of a pile up after being caught trying to steal some Willow Run yardage. He was one of the top rushers for the Eagles who lost out against Willow Run in the league finale. Romulus' loss to the homecoming action this week when they'll be guests or Inkster on Friday.

WANTED MAN--The name of the game is to get the man with the ball and Romulus' Rance Thomas (27) finds himself encircled by Willow Run Flyers. He scored on this play above but the TD wasted as the guests spoiled Romulus' homecoming day.

Tigers Waste

Belleville tried valiantly to get back into the game with its passing attack, but defensive back Duane Olds played superbly to keep the receivers well covered. Some people may really rather have a Buick, but Plymouth head coach Tom Moshimer would rather have an Olds. (Ouch!)

Belleville fullback Mike Fant thrilled the crowd with four minutes left in the game when he circled left and for 82 yards and literally galloped down the sidelines ahead of three blue-shirted defenders for the Tigers last score.

The result left the two teams tied for the league cellar with 1-4 seconds. Plymouth winds up its schedule as it travels to Walled Lake Central Friday night with an overall 3-4 record and must win to finish with a .500 mark for the year.

Belleville is also 3-4 overall and hosts a good Ypsilanti team Friday night in an attempt to reach a .500 record before closing out against Westland John Glenn the following week.

Answers, Not Delay, Needed in Authority

The City of Inkster's refusal to approve sale of bonds for a $2.3 million incinerator is causing dissension among the five member communities of the Sanitation Authority and even between members of the Inkster City Council.

Mayor Leonard Daksiewicz and Councilmen John Mulhern, Robert West and Robert Cullen want answers to certain very pertinent questions about that incinerator and about the future of the Authority.

Councilmen Clyde Hamlin, Edward Dudek and Terrel LeCesne have indicated that the other Councilmen are being obstructionists in taking that stand.

It is true that on a project of this type delay can mean money. From year to year we can see the increase in building costs and doubtless this applies to the construction of that furnace, too.

But what bothers us is that it is so difficult to get the answers to those questions. What is in the future for the Authority, which serves Westland, Wayne, Garden City, Dearborn Heights and Inkster?

Will that third furnace be obsolete when it is built? Will the non-member communities continue to be served by the Authority year after year? Why the dissension?

Frankly, the Sanitation Authority is a very small group of men with tremendous power; they make decisions regarding millions of taxpayer dollars.

Because garbage and trash is of so little interest to most people, the Sanitation Authority operates out of the sight of the public eye. There is nothing wrong with this; but when questions are asked by a member community we cannot see why they shouldn't be answered.

There have been rumblings from some officials in the other communities that Inkster, one of the smaller members of the Authority, is just throwing its weight around.

Instead of complaining, perhaps these officials should also look into the future plans of the Sanitation Authority and make sure the taxpayers' money is being well spent.

Some 1970 Priorities For County Spending

The Wayne County Board of Supervisors is currently in the throes of setting up a budget that is supposed to take care of County needs in the coming year.

Obviously, the $162 million with which the County Board is working is inadequate. The requests of the various county agencies greatly exceed available tax monies.

From the standpoint of those in Western Wayne County, perhaps road improvements are the most vitally needed of all County-financed services. Local communities normally pay 40 percent of the cost of road improvements, while the County pays the remainder.

Cherry Hill and Warren Roads are two obvious sore spots, as is Middlebelt Road south of Cherry Hill and north of Van Born.

Also badly needed are increased numbers of Juvenile Court workers to handle neglected and delinquent children. The juvenile problem in Wayne County is a terrible mark on the entire area.

The problem exists in suburban areas like our own just as much as it does in the ghetto of Detroit. The state of Michigan has fallen down on the job in helping the County, as Judge James H. Lincoln contends, and the County has never been able to properly finance the court.

In addition, the Wayne County General Hospital deserves to have the continuing support of the County legislators. It is to our great benefit, in Western Wayne, to have such a fine hospital within easy reach.

These are some of the things we urge the County legislators to consider in their budget deliberations. Not every need can be satisfied, we know. But these are some needs we feel are particularly important.

We invite our readers to join us in letting County Supervisors know what is most needed in Wayne County in 1970.

A WORD FITLY SPOKEN

A Need for Tolerance

By Jim Bradley

If there is one word that describes this country today it's—intolerance.

We see it everywhere. Between the black and whites and the young and old. The rich in their finery swish flamboyantly to their dinner parties to the lilting strains of orchestral arrangements. While not far away the poor and down-trodden grovel in the belly of the slums to find a slice of bread to quiet the pangs of pain in their stomach. Intolerance.

Cries of "Burn, Baby, Burn!" and "Kill Whitey" rise from the lips of radical, fanatical Blacks. Loving bands of Whites respond with equal vehemence, "Keep the nigger in his place." Intolerance.

A man takes a pack of cigarettes from his pocket, nervously slips one between his lips and flicks his lighter. The smoke curls into clouds, filling the air with haze. He exhales into the face of the non-smoker beside him who winces at the polluted air and suffers silently while nauseated by the stifling fumes. The smoker drags deeply again and blows his exhaust fumes for his friend to absorb. Intolerance.

A man or woman, utterly lacking in self-discipline, manners or restraint turns the air blue with vile language. A filthy joke or suggestive comment embarrasses listening ears, giving no heed to their right to clean speech. Intolerance.

Youths enraged with the heady wine of their own importance, take over a university administration building. Smashing windows and turning the structure into a barricaded fortress, they deprive students of their right to study and become what they want to be. Intolerance.

Narrow-minded adults gather to discuss this "terrible" generation, calling all young people wild and irresponsible, saying they're all bad. Gleefully assessing "this generation" as a fully rotten one, they fail to realize they are the ones who have reared "this generation." Intolerance.

A person reads an article in a newspaper and totally disagrees. They shouldn't allow such thoughts to be printed, he murmurs. Intolerance.

Romance On A Bus

By Jim Fitzgerald

Until he showed up feeding squirrels, I had forgotten My Most Unforgettable Character, Harry Holmes, the singing bus driver.

Back in the late 40's Harry drove the bus that went by my parents' home in Port Huron. Two blocks later, headed for downtown, he also drove by my girl friend's home. I didn't own a car, so it was often Harry's responsibility to get Noreen and me to the movie on time.

Usually, I'd board the 7 p.m. but at my corner, and then Noreen would get on 2 blocks later. This way I didn't have to pay her fare. She was a working girl and I was a struggling veteran trying to get through college on only $75 a month for beer.

It didn't take long for Harry to realize he was important to our romance. After he'd pick me up, he'd begin looking for Noreen. (She didn't always board at the same corner because sometimes she had to walk a block to Shamaly's Market to sell empty beer bottles to raise her bus fare. We were a wealthy couple). If Noreen were nowhere in sight, Harry would slow down to 5 mph to give her more time to materialize.

Harry was easily the town's most popular bus driver. It wasn't simply that he was always friendly; always had a corny joke. He was also a singer. Not very good, but louder than the motor. And properly inserted into the lyrics was always the name of the next street. If you missed your stop it was probably because you became bemused and thought Hoagy Carmichael had written something called Stardust on Rawlins St.

Noreen and I were an addition to Harry's repertoire. He let the other passengers know when his favorite couple made connections successfully. And, whenever one of us went downtown alone, he wondered aloud what the trouble was. He took a real interest in the courtship, following the ups and downs closely and vocally. Whenever I boarded a homeward bound bus alone and beery, he would tch-tch steadily for 10 blocks. I would have walked 15 miles rather than take another girl onto Harry's bus.

The Readers' Digest would end this tale with Harry busing Noreen and me on the first leg of our honeymoon. But alas. She found another, a guy with a car, and I left town on another bus line. It was 20 years before I thought of Harry again...

Suddenly there he was, the star of a feature story in my hometown newspaper. He's retired now and spends much of his time in a lawn chair, feeding peanuts to pigeons and squirrels.

"I feed them rain or shine—that's half my life now," he told the reporter. "You have to keep busy or you just rot away... all I want to do now is live in Port Huron until I die."

Harry lives smack on his old bus route. Boy, what I'd like to do is go home and ride that bus and get off at Harry's corner and hand a bag of peanuts to my Most Unforgettable Character.

But I'm so damn busy earning bus fare, I'll forget to do it. And then I'll think of it again when I read Harry's obituary.

That's life. What a shame.

Lift Up Your Head

Living On A Sick Planet

By Rosemary Kozielski

It's just not a human way to live.

That's what I said to a passenger in my car recently as we threaded our way through a rush hour snarl.

Somehow it seems to me that man was made for something better than asphalt jungles, concrete canyons and a dangerously polluted environment.

As a child I thought it was simply amazing to watch the black smoke roll out of a factory smokestack. But when I stopped for lunch in the Salina section of Dearborn, a couple of years ago, and found my car covered with a coating of industrial dust after that short visit, it wasn't so marvelous any more.

As a child I thoroughly enjoyed my visits to Rouge dead fish along the Rouge River was a sickly more.

As a child I loved the city with its ethnic neighborhoods, the old homes and churches, visiting the Farmer's Market early on a Saturday morning. But now I am sickened by the realization that the city is rotting from the inside out and very little is being done about it.

There are two attitudes we have that contribute to these sad situations. One is the obsession that we have with newness. In other cultures there is a respect for the old, whether its people, buildings or traditions.

Not here. Everyone wants a flashy new car, new appliances, new homes, new clothes. If you don't already have the 1970 model whatever, you are out of it. There is very little respect for the old homes that have a lot more character and decorating possibilities than a brand new one.

The other attitude is the one that urban man has toward his environment. Urban man seems to feel that he must conquer the earth by digging up trees and flowers and replacing them with asphalt, concrete and a few potted shrubs.

Man has adapted his "use it up and throw it away" philosophy to the earth. The only problem is that it's the only earth we have. Of course, there's Mars, but if this planet sickens and dies I wouldn't want to count on catching a ship to Mars.

I hope we can change these attitudes before it's too late. Or is it too late already?

How Will the People Speak?

By Richard McKnight

Results of a Moratorium Day poll of political science students at the University of Michigan-Dearborn campus were predictable—almost all favoring gradual or immediate withdrawal of forces in Vietnam, and upwards of three-quarters disapproving of President Richard M. Nixon's handling of the war.

What was more surprising, coming from a group of college students, was the suggestion, accepted by almost all of the students, that the American people vote nationwide in a referendum on Viet policy.

A similar referendum in South Vietnam was also suggested.

The thought of a national referendum on some of these vital issues is intriguing, and faintly strange to a nation of citizens who normally have great faith in their system of government, and the men who run it. Americans have almost always been willing to let the leaders lead, and express themselves in the voting booths periodically.

Starting a series of national referendums on various controversial questions would drastically change the political facts of life. What Congress or President could resist the legitimate demands of the people? And what would happen to the exercise of conscience by legislators, as opposed to blind acceptance of majority opinion back home?

While referendums would place more power in the hands of the people, there is no guarantee that the power would be used more wisely. Can an uninformed public be as wise as a group of Congressman who spend all their time gaining wisdom on national problems and then voting accordingly?

At the same time, there certainly ought to be a check on government that allows the American people to make their will known in some official way, rather than through the questionable form of public opinion polls that nobody can be sure are correct.

Referendums might also make citizens more aware of the issues, since they would be required to vote on them.

Might not a lot of the game playing in Congress be eliminated if the Congressmen knew that the people would only stand for so much, and then take direct action themselves? A great deal of stalling would be eliminated.

Americans have always been able to adapt themselves to new ideas. Democracy in the United States has never been a static thing.

Perhaps the national referendum, too, could be adapted to the American system of government. The young people seem to think so. Perhaps they will get a chance to speak in this new way in the years to come.

Westland Lady Flier Takes Air Race Prize

Two Westland fliers, husband and wife combination, placed in the top five winners of this year's Michigan Small Race for Women Pilots. The race was flown out of Mount Pleasant, Michigan, on October 4.

organization of licensed women pilots founded by the famous Amelia Earhart. The event draws entries from all sections of the United States and year even Australia and Canada were represented in this well-known proficiency race.

This year's event, the 14th annual small race, was officiated by the Michigan Aeronautics Commission and sanctioned by the National Aeronautics Association.

The round-robin race is an approximately 200-mile course. The race started and ended at Mount Pleasant and included two check points enroute. The exact course was not revealed until all the airplanes had been impounded the night prior to the race take-off. The women pilots were allowed to fly solo or to be accompanied by a male or female co-pilot or passenger.

Prizes worth more than of Tecumseh, Michigan. Fourth place was won by another Ann Arbor woman, Bernice Steadman with husband Bob as co-pilot. Westlanders, the Lankenau's were the fifth place winners.

This year's race was one of the greatest in the many years the race has been flown. There were 62 aircraft entered in the aerial proficiency race.

Another area woman pilot participating the air race was Miss Mary Caroline Wehr with co-pilot Judith Springman, flying a Cessna 150. Both young ladies fly from Willow Run Airport with the McGrath Flying Service. Miss Wehr also flew in the 1968 race when she placed 38th out of over 50 other aircraft entries. She is in the process of becoming a Ninety-Nine member and is also a member of the AOPA.

With more women, housewives, secretaries, students currently taking flying lessons almost every local flight school is booked "near solid" on weekends. With this huge acceleration of women pilots on the way officials are hopeful and projecting that next year's event entries might even hit an all time high of over 100 aircraft.

This is the first year in the history of the race that Michigan women took all prize money and trophies.

$1000 in cash and trophies were awarded for first through fifth place winners. Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lankenau, 33982 Spring Valley Drive, Westland were among the top five winners flying in a 1968-model Beechcraft Bonanza low wing monoplane. Mrs. Lankenau (Sandra) piloted the aircraft through the entire race while husband co-pilot acted as navigator.

The first place winner of this year's event was Miss Juliette Auerbach from nearby Ann Arbor, flying her Cessna 172 Skyhawk. Her co-pilot for the grueling 200-mile race was Rupert Bell of Belleville, a student pilot with two hours flying time.

To Miss Auerbach went the Paul Bunyan Traveling Trophy and $400 in cash. Because of their low combined flying hours and lack of ratings higher than a private pilot, they also qualified for several other trophies. Julie is an engineer at the Chrysler Corporation.

Second place went to Josephine Lee and her husband, Charles. Third place winner was Dr. Carlton Cook
